

Student Voting Process

As a Texas resident and college student in Texas, you have the freedom to choose where you register to vote. You can register to vote at the address you consider your primary residence, be it your family's home or your school address. To register in Texas, however, you must declare residency in Texas and possess a Texas ID.

Remember that you can only be registered to vote at one location. Registering to vote in your college community will not affect your Federal Financial Aid, status as a dependent on your parents' taxes, or tuition status.

WHAT DO I NEED TO REGISTER TO VOTE?

Here is what you need to know to register in Texas:

- On the application form, you must include your state driver's license number or personal ID number issued by the State Department of Public Safety.
- If you do not have either of these numbers, you may provide the last four digits of your social security number on the form.
- If you don't have a social security number, you must check the box stating you do not have this information.
- All voters must present an acceptable form of photo ID to vote at the polls.
- A student college ID is not a form of valid voter ID.
- Visit Votetexas.gov to get registered or answer any other questions you may have.
